

Invitation

You are invited to attend

IHP's 7th Workshop

High-Performance SiGe:C BiCMOS for Wireless and Broadband Communication:
Technology, IC Design, and Applications
(September 17, 2008)

and the

Tutorial

IHP Design Kits:
Installation, Design Flow & Special Features
(September 18-19, 2008)

The Workshop (Sept. 17, 2008, 9:30 – 16:00)

Firsthand information about IHP's technology offers and discussions with the key people behind

- Updates about IHP's latest technologies and the roadmap for future developments
The new 0.13 μm SiGe:C BiCMOS with HBTs up to 300 GHz
Update of the 0.25 μm SiGe:C BiCMOS (up to 200 GHz)
A new generation of integrated LDMOS
Next developments towards the THz range
- Latest news about IHP's Multiproject Wafer and Prototyping Service
Small and medium chip quantities for research & industry, made with ultrafast BiCMOS technologies
Technologies, run schedule and available Design Kits
- Successes based on IHP's technologies and services
High-performance analog and mixed-signal ICs, presented by IHP and its customers
Demonstrators of high-performance wireless systems

The Tutorial (Sept. 18, 2008, 9:00 – Sept. 19, ~14:00)

Two days for designers to work with IHP's Design Kits

- ASIC Design Flow based on 0.25 μm BiCMOS technology & outlook SG13S
- First day will be focused on Cadence
- Focus of the second day will be ADS
